Today we welcome Hector Sanchez who will be bringing us a Moment in Mission. Hector is an engineer who works currently as the Director of MAMA Proyect Inc. en Honduras (in San Francisco de Yojoa, Honduras). He has been involved in his local church, Iglesia en Transformacion, since 1981. He has worked with many organizations in the past in community development. For the last year and a half, Hector has worked with MAMA, overseeing the Nutrition Center as well as the Mission Teams, including the January team from Deep Run East. Hector also spends time developing the program and donating materials to local clinics and hospitals. Hector will be in the United States for 3 weeks learning more about the Pennsylvania Office of MAMA Project, creating a plan for 2012, as well as visiting some of the people that have been to Honduras in the past.

The elective Sunday School class will meet in the Preschool area this morning. Rachel Detweiler and Barb Hackman will be leading the class.

The group is assessing the interest in continuing the class beyond the sermon series. If you are interested in participating in this elective class on an on-going basis, please come to class this morning or discuss your interest with Rachel Detweiler.

Next Sunday Brent Camilleri will be interviewing Liz Myers as we conclude the summer sermon series, "I Love to Tell the Story." The message, "The God That Guides Our Steps," is based on the scripture text Proverbs 3:1-6.

Next Sunday, Leadership Board representative, Wendy Leatherman, will be in the preschool area between the service and Sunday school hour to speak with anyone wishing to discuss questions, concerns, or dreams for DRE.
